Dads Get a Bad Rap

by Wilson Adams

Dads get a bad rap. Look no further than how we're portrayed in sitcoms: bungling buffoons. Dads deserve better.

Defined, a father is "a man who has begotten a child." "Begotten" is not exactly in my vocabulary. How 'bout... "A father is someone who endures childbirth without anesthesia, stays awake during his child's piano recitals, and places the keys in the hands of a teen driver only to swallow hard and pray like crazy." Something like that. 😊

I suspect when this generation grows up and looks back on the question, "What did you miss most about your childhood?" -the answer in many cases will be: My Dad.

Truth? Your kids don't need more substitutes and stuff; they need the presence and influence of a godly father.

A real father is someone who takes time for you, listens to you, talks with you, and laughs with you. He pulls up alongside and helps you grow up. BTW, kids aren't looking for perfect dads, but real dads from whom they get approval, support, leadership example, and love.

"For you know that we dealt with each of you as a father deals with his own children, encouraging, comforting and urging you to live lives worthy of God..." (1 Thess. 2:11-12).

P.S. The greatest thing a dad can do? Show your kids what it means to live like Jesus: forgiving, sacrificing, and loving your bride as He loves His. After all, our actions speak louder than our words.

Home Without A Bible

by C.D. Meigs

What is home without a Bible?
Tis a home where day is night.
Starless night, for over life's pathway
Heaven can shed no kindly light.

What is home without a Bible?
Tis a home where daily bread
For the body is provided,
But the soul is never fed.

What is home without a Bible?
Tis a family out at sea,
Compass lost and rudder broken,
Drifting, drifting, thoughtlessly.

1 Timothy 6:11-12, "Flee from these (lesser) things, you man of God, and pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, perseverance, and gentleness. Fight the good fight of faith; take hold of the eternal life to which you were called, and you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses."

Proverbs 14:26, "In the fear of the Lord there is strong confidence, and his children will have refuge."
