Jesus, Love And Judas
by Vernon Curry

It was said about Jesus, "Having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them until the end" (John 13:1). People talk about falling in love and falling out of love. Children tell each other, "You are not my best friend anymore."

But when you think about Jesus loving his own, remember that Peter was in that group, even Judas was in that group. Is it possible for our friends to hurt us as much as Judas hurt Jesus? Do we continually love others until the end?

We can answer how much we love God and other people by how we treat other people. God is love and Christians are his children, therefore, Christians are to imitate God, not man. Multiple people hurt us over the course of our lives, but think of how many people have hurt God since the beginning of time. Christians never have the right to treat someone without love. Love is kind; love is not rude. It doesn't matter what others do to you, love is to be the response. "Repay no one evil for evil" (Romans 12:17).

We can love someone who doesn't love us. Jesus told us to pray for those who persecute us. When we decide to talk evil and do evil instead of good, we have turned away from walking in the light as Jesus is in the light and chosen to walk in the darkness with Satan. God's number one priority for man is to love God with all our being and to love others out of that overflow.

Who are you walking with and what are you overflowing with?
